SPS CODE CREW BOATS DELIVERING HIGH-QUALITY MARINE SERVICE

The ongoing socio-economic scenario has placed three vital questions in front of India's coal dominated power industry. The first is to identify a new source to meet expanding energy demand; the second is to reduce the coal dependency, and the third is to be Atmanirbhar. While renewable energy is still insufficient to meet the country's increasing power demand, India is keen to exploit the oil and gas medium. To cite a study, out of 91 trillion cubic feet of Indian gas reserves yet to be exploited, 76 trillion cubic feet are thought to reside in offshore areas. ONGC and other organizations are already investing a chunk of money to expand the nation's offshore fields.

However, setting up an offshore field is a highly critical and challenging task. The crew can face a range of difficult scenarios starting from natural calamities to different unforeseen events. To overcome these circumstances, the firms require a competent and highly experienced marine service provider to aid companies in a variety of activities ranging from surveying to pipeline maintenance and development with an ability to resist any given critical situation. This is where Vinayak Marine Service (VMS) with its top-notch crew boats and highly experienced team is making a difference.

Ravi Kapoor, Director, VMS says, "We introduce ourselves as one of the leading shipping companies having our fleet of crew boats operating in Indian coast offshore field and kept on growing then substantially and adding crew boats, which specializes in Crew Boat, Utility Boat, and WorkBoats business. VMS is a completely performance-oriented, quality-conscious company providing excellent services on schedule with devotion & commitment."
